

Anna is a true cosmopolitan, and her cultural and political experiences have had a profound effect on her exquisite figurative compositions. Born at the height of the cold war, she was exposed to very different worlds, that of the austere communist regime alongside the sophistication and femininity of her fashion-conscious mother. She excelled as a student of the Russian State University for Arts, and at her graduation in 1991 she was awarded the distinction of high-class artist.

Subsequently, Anna studied art in Germany, Belgium and Holland and enjoyed the freedom of learning and perfecting her technique in a variety of different media. Of particular interest to her were the portrait masters of the late 19th Century, John Singer Sargent, the Russian painter Valentin Serov, and earlier masters such as Peter Paul Rubens and Rembrandt. She travelled around Europe absorbing the influences of artists past and present, and finally settled in Canada which she now feels to be her true home.

With solo exhibitions in New York, Paris, Toronto, Amsterdam, Antwerp and Berlin and numerous works in private collections across the globe, Anna has become one of the most exciting and collectable artists on the contemporary scene.

RAZUMOVSKAYA

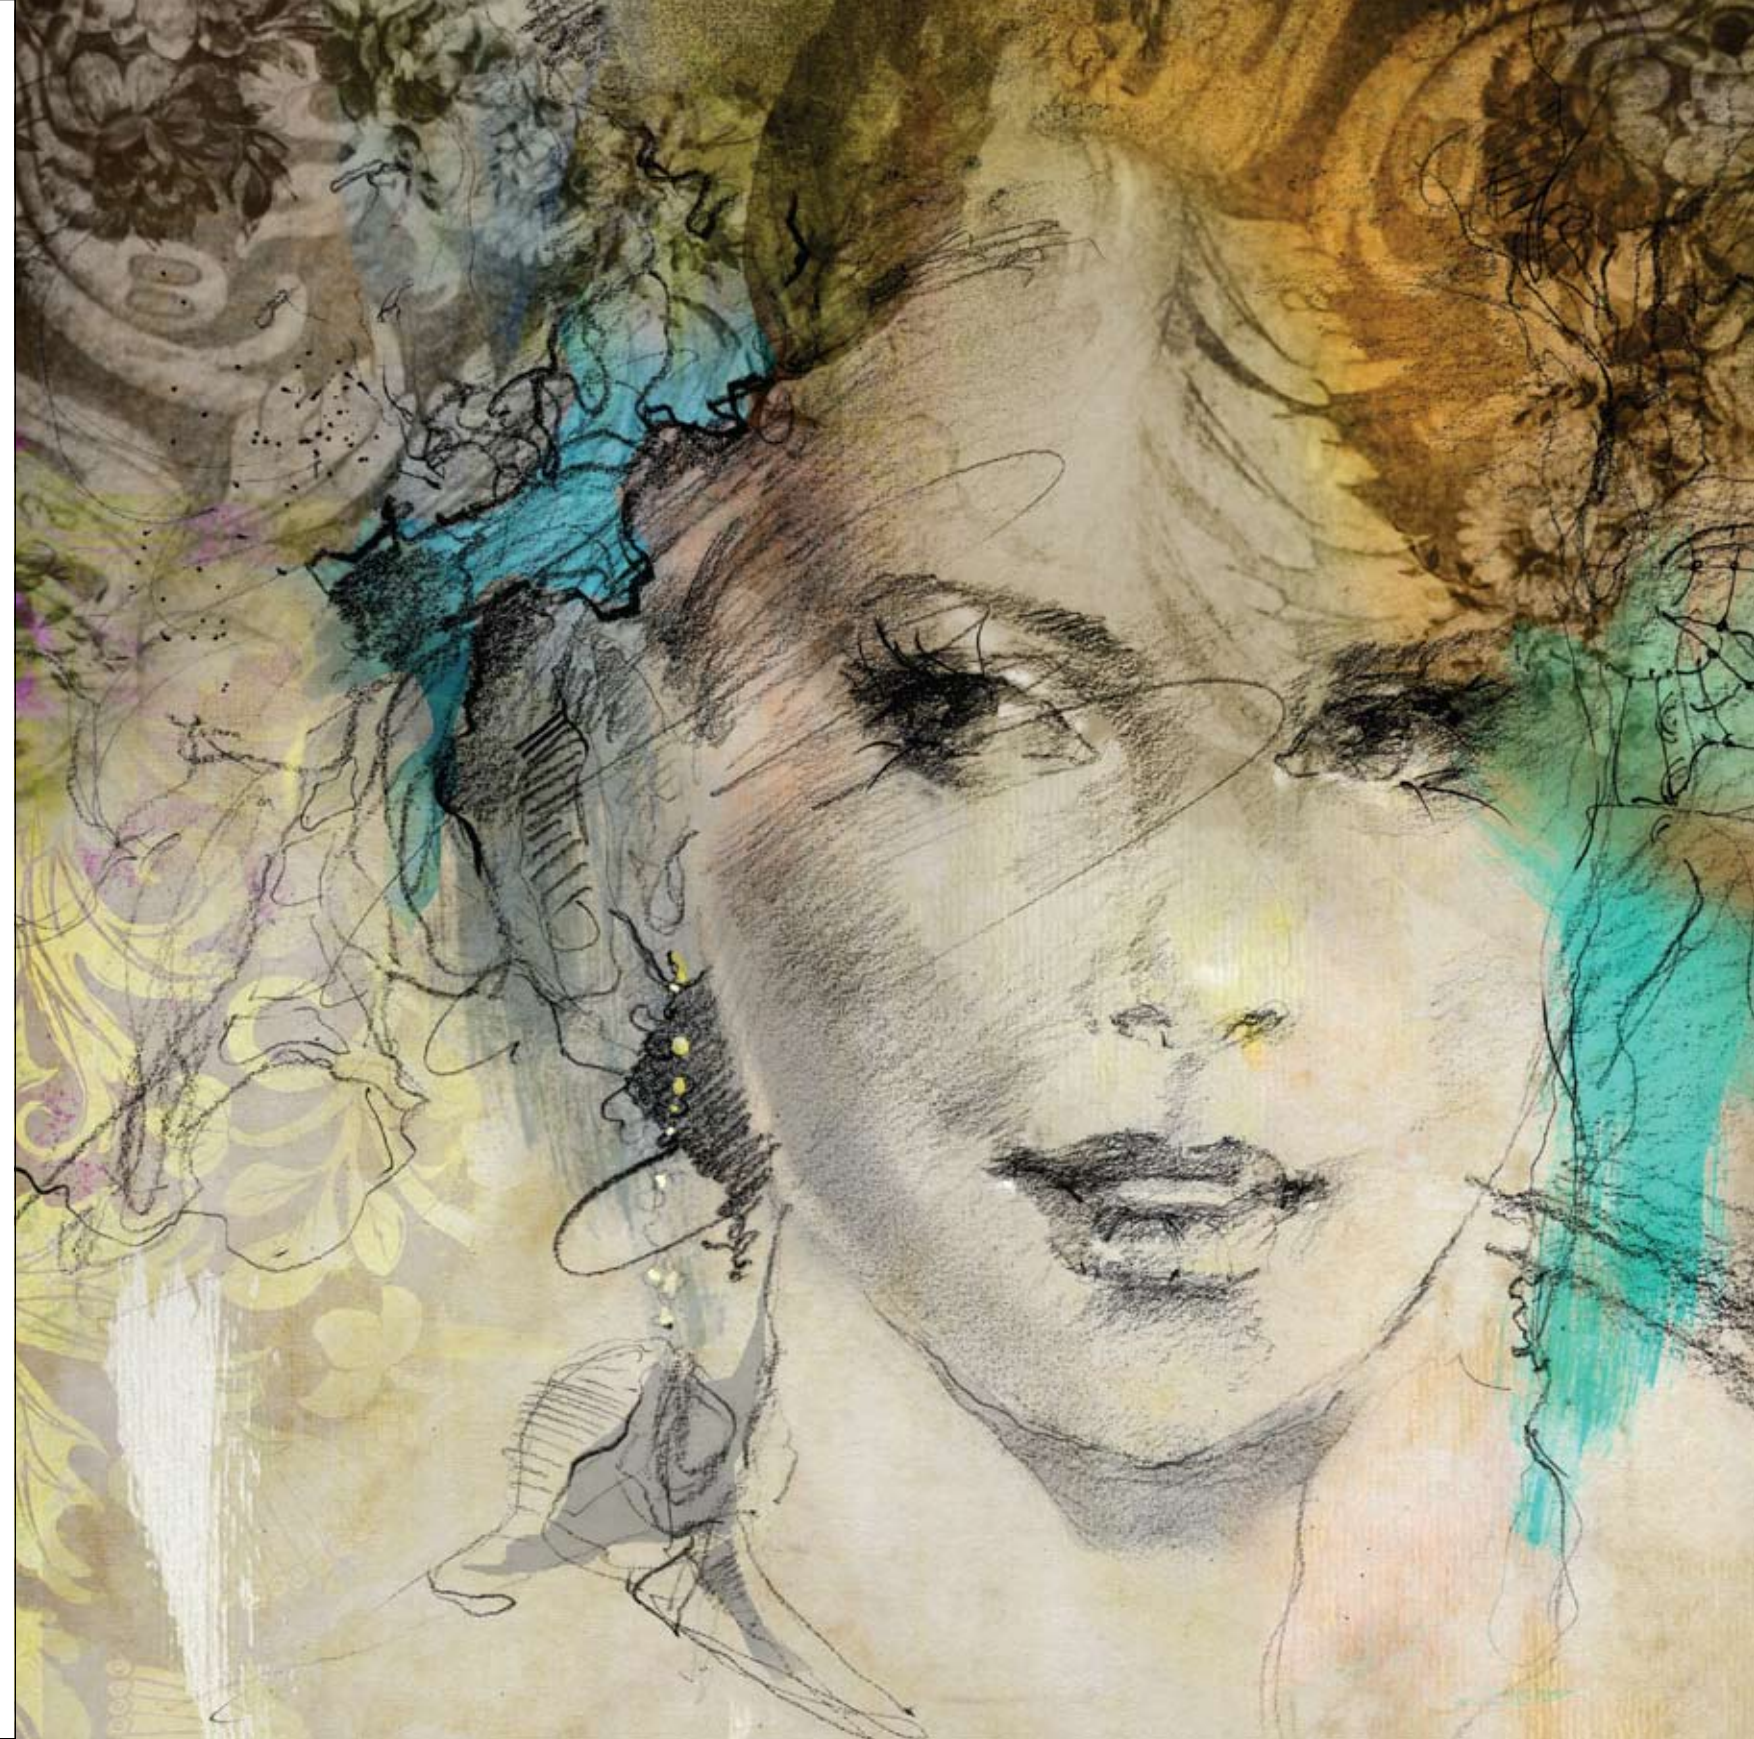

anna RAZUMOVSKAYA

With her classic figurative forms, highly acclaimed Russian artist Anna Razumovskaya magically captures the lyrical romanticism of renaissance portraiture, while creating art that is completely modern and original. Anna is inspired by the graceful elegance of the female form, at turns classically alluring, demure and provocative. Her art has a pervasive sense of romanticism, and the passionate and dynamic application of paint on the canvas and the artist's signature use of expressive colour, combine to create her uniquely recognisable style.
